

Civil Service Jobs in New York State

March 22, 2016

Civil Service jobs in New York State can be offered either by local jurisdictions or by the state itself. There are several web sites you can use to locate possible jobs and find more information about them.

Start with the New York State Department of Civil Service and click “Learn More” under “Job Seekers” to access the state and local employment opportunities information:

Then you can investigate job openings with the state government and job openings with various local agencies:

The “Test Guides and Resource Booklets” link provides information about the contents of some tests. While these are not comprehensive test preparation materials, they can provide an idea of the types of questions that will be found on the exams.

Another site for New York State jobs is StateJobsNY. Click “For the General Public” for introductory material about becoming a state employee:

Details about specific job titles within the state can be found at the “Glossary of Titles – Inquiry Tool” site of the Career Mobility Office:
